Challenges

Limited options for content creators and viewers

Millions of independent content creators currently have limited options to monetize content and viewers don't get any rewards at all. There has been a growing trend towards fans supporting creators with growth in subscription-based platforms such as Patreon and OnlyFans however these platforms do not offer crypto rewards to all users. Polkaplay offers opportunity for content creators and viewers to earn crypto rewards. Some content creators are extremely successful while others are not so financially buoyant. They don't have funds to finance their growth in terms of purchasing recording equipment and scale quickly. There are no options available for them to easily convert their content NFTs and offer it for sale from one platform so they can continue to create and engage the users who benefit in the process as well.

Market Industry Growth

The global digital content creator market is an already large and rapidly growing industry. In 2019 the global content creator market was estimated to be $167 billion USD and is expected to reach $397 billion USD by 2026 at a CAGR of 13%. The enormous size and rapid growth of the market can be strongly attributed to the proliferation of smart devices, streaming and social media platforms over past decades which has not only increased the quantity and value of content available but also drastically increased the number of creators publishing content.

While the global content creator market is undeniably large the earnings generated in the market are heavily skewed with the most popular content creators far out earning smaller independent content creators. In fact, studies have found that most creators also hold down traditional jobs or they are students or retirees, so most creators use earnings from posting their creations to supplement their primary sources of income.

NFT Market Growth

Since the launch of Cryptokitties in late 2017 the NFT market has grown at an astonishing rate, growing at an average YoY growth rate of 192% even despite the crypto winter which saw many other crypto assets pull back¹. This is indicative of the robust and collectable nature of NFTs and widely held belief that we are only just beginning to scratch the surface of NFTs full potential. There is high expectation that 2021 is poised to be a milestone year for NFTs with huge growth in both adoption and market capitalization expected, a trend that Polkapay and its investors will undoubtedly help facilitate and benefit from.
